Los Angeles - The California Rally Series (CRS) is excited to present our 2022 Rally Championship Schedule. New events and locations join legacy rallies to fill out a calendar that should please competitors looking for a meaningful regional championship on the West coast. Two brand new rallysprint (Coefficient 1) events are planned for Ridgecrest and Prairie City to help keep rally alive in California. For the first time ever, the Oregon Trail Rally will be a part of the California Rally Series as a pair of C3 rallies that will offer maximum points for those willing to make the tow up north. Idaho Rally and Rally Colorado return for 2022, but due to unavoidable scheduling issues, the two events both fall in July within a few weeks of each other. For this reason, competitors may run both rallies but only may score championship points from one of the two weekends. Rally Nevada will take place in November, followed by the Gorman Ridge Rally with a new date in December. The Full 2022 Rally Championship Schedule is as follows:
